The town of Lennox Head

Lennox Head is a small coastal village just 15 minutes south of Byron Bay. The Lennox feel, vibe, mood is a lot slower than our tourist magnet neighbor - more relaxed you could say. The locals are welcoming and friendly with many a character in the village.

We have so many things to offer from world best surf breaks to relaxing tea tree lake we boast an array of small restaurants, great beaches, many different styles of accommodation from beachfront to caravan park and your usual shopping village. Everything you need is in the one hassle free place - a fantastic destination to tie the knot, you don't even need to use your car once you arrive, as everything is so close. Your guests may even have a holiday in turn with your wedding.

Lennox is the Byron of yesteryear and is often described as a surfer's haven - you can still find a quiet part of the beach to yourself. Seven Mile Weddings has ocean views as far as you can see. It is the perfect place to say "I do", perhaps on the beach with your reception just a stroll away on our balcony...
